Sharing the Wonders of the Wild Highlands

You can use Aigas as a base for your own expeditions and combine staying in a beautiful place with the friendly expertise of Scotland's premier nature centre. The package we offer to those who may not wish to join an organised group enables you to use our facilities and Rangers, as well as stay in one of our lodges on a B&B basis.

Please note that booking your accommodation as well as arranging the optional extras in advance is essential to ensure the availability of our rangers and facilities. All activities, for example ranger days out or hide visits, as well as meals must be booked 6 weeks prior to your visit; adding items to your booking after this time may not be guaranteed. Some optional extras may not be available on certain weeks.

We can only accept bookings for a minimum of 3 nights stay.

Please find and read our Terms & Conditions below.
